

Indiana Philosophical Association

Spring Meeting

Saturday, May 1, 2004

DePauw University
Performing Arts Center, Room 115E
Greencastle, IN

Program Announcement

- 9:30 Coffee
- 10:00 Indiana Philosophical Association Distinguished Lecture
J.T. Howald, Franklin College
Skepticism
- Panel Discussion: Erik Baldwin, Purdue; Juli Eflin, Ball State University
- 12:00 Lunch
- 1:30 Business Meeting
- 2:00 Locke's Resemblance Thesis: Defending Campbell against Jacovides
Benjamin Hill, Illinois Wesleyan University.
Commentator: Gregory Sadler, Ball State University
- 3:00 Two Unnaturalness Arguments against Gay Sex
Stephen Sullivan, University of Southern Indiana
Commentator: to be announced

Driving Directions from Indianapolis to Greencastle: Take Interstate 70 West to U.S. 231 North (exit 41) or Highway 40 West to U.S. 231. Follow U.S. 231 North into Greencastle. Turn left on Seminary Street (marked with a small, green DePauw University sign).

Maps are included, but further instructions and maps for driving to Greencastle can be found at: www.depauw.edu/visitors/maps.asp. Campus maps for DePauw can be found at: www.depauw.edu/geoport/map.asp. Click on the boxes in the lower left corner to see the names of the buildings and streets.

Parking is available in any "Faculty and Staff" parking lot, including the one to the south of the Performing Arts Center.